Good News

- Release 7 to Matt Z. soon for review and metadata
- California is the newest NAD partner
 - Initially will follow the Alaska model, with the California GIO facilitating the submissions of county data
 - Statewide data program is under development
 - Data will be compiled to the state level using the NENA Standard for NG9-1-1 GIS Data Model
 - First statewide submission to the NAD expected within 18 months
- Google has ingested the NAD
 - “Millions of improvements” were made to the Google data based on their evaluation of the NAD
 - Follow up meeting scheduled
- Release 7 will be published in late August

Not So Good News

- Laurie Flaherty, the NHTSA National 9-1-1 Program Director, has announced her retirement.
 - Over the last 4 years, Laurie's program has $700,000 for NAD development
 - Currently working with Laurie to secure next year's funding
 - Will brief Laurie's replacement ASAP
